Diana Patton's painting, "Grandpa Knows Best," is in the Pittsburgh Watercolor Society's exhibit, "Waterworks," at the North Hills Art Center in Pittsburgh, PA.

"I painted the frogs from some of the many photos I took when I had my ponds in Bridgewater. One year I took some of the tadpoles and let them grow to froglets in a home aquarium." <https://www.pittsburghwatercolorsociety.com/page-1735951>

Annnnd...

The Center for Contemporary Art has sent out communication to its members asking them to participate in a Fall fundraiser by creating a piece of art for donation. Details on next page.

Off the Wall
Create an original work of art for
The Center's fall fundraiser!

You are invited to participate in The Center's fall fundraising event Off The Wall by creating an original 8"x8" 2D piece of art, or a 3D work no larger than 8"x8"x8". We need your help to make this event successful!

Here's how it works:

The Center's members and students who create 2D work can stop by the office to pick up an 8"x8" canvas, limit one per participant while supplies last. You are welcome to submit more than one 8"x8" piece; if you chose to submit more than one, you will be responsible for purchasing your own additional 8"x8" canvases (available at almost any art supply store including Michaels, Jerry's Art-a-rama, Dick Blick, etc.)

Artists are invited to create works in oil, acrylic, mixed media, photography, pastel, watercolor and more. All works will be sold at the Off the Wall fundraiser for $100. If you create your 2D work on something other than the supplied canvas it must be no larger than 8"x8" and mounted to the supplied canvas. For The Center's members and students who create 3D work in their medium of choice, dimensions should be no larger than 8" in any direction.

First: Pick up your FREE 8" x 8" canvas from The Center's front desk from now – July 15th, one FREE canvas per artist while supplies last, or purchase your own. When you pick up your canvas you will be given a short form to return with your canvas, also downloadable here. If you are a 2D artist who will be purchasing your own canvas or a 3D artist who will be making a piece for this fundraiser, please confirm your participation by emailing Cyndi Wish at cwish@ccabedminster.org to let us know to count you in.

Next: Create your Masterpiece(s).

Then: Bring your finished work to The Center, dry and ready to install, any time after it is complete and no later than 5pm on August 1st. Please download this label and affix it to your work.

Finally: Thank you! We appreciate your participation. Your work supports The Center's mission to provide arts education, free exhibitions, community building programs, and local partnerships that are focused on arts accessibility.

Additionally, as our way of saying thank you, after the event we will provide you with a discount code for $20 off tuition for one class or workshop.

When I visited the CCA, I was told that non-members may also participate. To reiterate, this is a 100% donation to the CCA.
